

The teen fellows

THE Zionist Federation of Australia (ZFA) has handpicked 18 students from years 10 and 11 to participate in the unique Diller Teen Fellowship.

The program fosters an international network of Jewish teen leaders, with the participants engaging in workshops and Shabbatons before travelling to Israel in July.

While visiting Israel, they will mingle and build relationships with more than 500 of their counterparts from the United States, Canada and South Africa.

The group of students are from a range of schools across Melbourne, including Bialik College, McKinnon Secondary School, Methodist Ladies College and Mount Scopus Memorial College.

ZFA's program coordinator, Ellie Golvan, said, "It was very special to see the group come together for a Shabbat and share their personal experiences of Shabbat in a meaningful and respectful way.

"The Diller Teen Fellows program is a unique multifaceted program, creating an international network of leaders in our community. It's important to look at this group as the young leaders of today and invest in them in order to give them tools to impact our community in a positive way."
