

Spreading the love of Judaism and Israel

BIALIK'S year 11 students shared a taste of Judaism with their friends from the Building Bridges interfaith program last month. The day began with informative talks about Judaism, festivals and the Holocaust, and then ended with a visit to the Ark Synagogue, where many of the students from the other schools were exposed to Jewish prayer and symbols for the first time.

The students also ate honey cake, falafel and freshly baked challah. Pictured is Bialik principal Jeremy Stowe-Lindner speaking to students.
