

From left: Ben Kaye, Ben Ginsberg, Maayan Zlatsin and Ethan Spiegel.

Bialik button project continues

A USUAL school fundraiser can include a sausage sizzle, fun games and activities, all for the financial benefit of a chosen charity.

Last term the year 12 Zionism leaders at Bialik College initiated a different type of fundraiser with the aim of helping complete the Bialik button project.

A school-wide sausage sizzle, board games, dancing, karaoke and fun activities were held for the entire school in exchange for buttons instead of money.

“Through this Israeli-styled market, we aimed to bring a refreshing approach to fundraising at Bialik,” year 12 leader Maayan Zlatsin said.

The Bialik button project is an ongoing initiative to collect 1.5 million buttons to recognise the lives of children who were lost in the Holocaust.