

Making children smile with crafts

THE year long Etgar (challenge) program at Bialik has seen two participants in year 9, Amy Liberman and Amanda Gunn, take it upon themselves to bring smiles to the faces of less fortunate children.

After getting the go ahead from an official at the Royal Children's Hospital (RCH), the girls spent all term organising craft sessions with inpatients and secured generous donations from Spotlight and Riot Art.

They were joined on the day by fellow students Sahar Shavit, Lee Rogers, Bailey Levin and Maddy Israel, and all the students had a fantastic time making sick children feel better.

Bialik College students Sahar Shavit, Lee Rogers, Bailey Levin, Amanda Gunn, Maddy Israel and Amy Liberman with children at the RCH.

