

Celebration Evening at Bialik

BIALIK College recently held its annual Celebration Evening for the entire school community where awards were presented, talented students performed and achievements were acknowledged.

More than 80 students were recognised for their academic and sporting excellence, social justice initiatives and community involvement. Year 12 student Amira Moshinsky was presented with the highest accolade: the Chaim Nachman Bialik Award.

In presenting Moshinsky with the prestigious award, vice-principal Gary Velleman praised her for being “an example of the finest of her generation: resilient, committed, determined and a leader among her peers”.

Bialik College president Kate Beaconsfield acknowledged the achievements of the students, congratulating the school for producing “well-rounded, empathetic children who have a strong sense of integrity and who are respectful of others”.

The year 12 group said farewell to Bialik College at the annual Celebration Evening.
